WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY ABOUT BOXO

Founder

Chantry 1975

"Jason has been super helpful on all of my Packaging needs. He keeps me in the loop and communication has been great. Pricing and turnaround time is fantastic."

Co-Founder

Gubba Homestead

"Boxo Packaging delivered our eco-friendly kraft boxes beautifully. The print quality was sharp, the materials were exactly as described, and shipping was faster than expected."

Founder

Botanico Vida

"Really happy with the service overall - the whole process was simple from start to finish. The boxes themselves are great quality. Jason from the team was also really helpful! Overall, great quality products, fast delivery, and genuinely helpful customer service. It's nice dealing with a company that actually seems to care about its customers. We will definitely order from Boxo again and would happily recommend them."

CLIENT'S SUCCESS STORIES

TRAYVAX

Premium Outdoor Gear & Tactical Accessories

THE CHALLENGE

Trayvax, a premium manufacturer of rugged wallets and outdoor everyday-carry accessories, required retail packaging that reflected the durability and craftsmanship of its products while creating a memorable shelf presence. The existing packaging lacked the premium visual appeal needed to communicate the brand's high-quality positioning and did not fully showcase the product's unique design. The client also needed packaging that would securely protect the product during shipping and retail handling without compromising presentation. Maintaining consistent print quality, structural integrity, and production efficiency across large manufacturing runs was another key requirement, all while staying within the allocated budget.

THE SOLUTION

We designed a custom retail packaging solution that combined premium materials, precision printing, and a durable paperboard structure to reflect Trayvax's rugged yet modern brand identity. Soft-touch finishing and a precision die-cut window enhanced product visibility while creating a premium unboxing experience. The final packaging delivered excellent product protection, consistent production quality, and a strong retail presence. The solution successfully elevated the brand image while meeting the client's performance, budget, and manufacturing requirements.

CLIENT'S SUCCESS STORIES

ADA LIP BEAUTY

Beauty & Personal Care

THE CHALLENGE

ADA Lip Beauty was preparing to launch its premium lip care collection and needed packaging that reflected the brand's clean, modern aesthetic while ensuring reliable product protection during shipping and retail display. The packaging had to communicate quality, reinforce the brand's premium positioning, and create an exceptional first impression for customers.

The client also required a packaging partner capable of delivering precise color reproduction, premium finishes, and consistent manufacturing quality while maintaining cost efficiency and meeting a tight product launch schedule.

THE SOLUTION

We designed a custom folding carton using premium paperboard, high-definition printing, and a soft-touch matte finish to complement ADA Lip Beauty's sophisticated brand identity. The packaging was engineered to provide reliable protection while delivering an elegant shelf presence and a memorable unboxing experience.

The final solution combined premium craftsmanship, consistent production quality, and refined presentation, helping ADA Lip Beauty strengthen its brand image and successfully launch its lip care product line.

CLIENT'S SUCCESS STORIES

HEATHER HAGOOD

Home Fragrance

THE CHALLENGE

Heather Hagood sought premium packaging for its handcrafted candle collection that would reflect the brand's elegant, modern identity while providing reliable protection during shipping and retail display. The packaging needed to preserve the product's premium appeal, withstand transportation, and create a memorable first impression for customers.

In addition, the client required a packaging partner capable of delivering exceptional print quality, refined finishes, and consistent production standards without exceeding budget or delaying the product launch.

THE SOLUTION

We created a custom folding carton using premium paperboard, high-definition printing, and a smooth matte finish to complement the brand's sophisticated aesthetic. The packaging was engineered to protect the candle while delivering an elegant shelf presence and a premium unboxing experience.

The final solution combined durability, consistent production quality, and eye-catching presentation, helping Heather Hagood strengthen its brand image and successfully launch its candle collection.

HIGHPOINT

CBD Wellness

THE CHALLENGE

Highpoint needed premium retail packaging for its CBD wellness product line that reflected the brand's clean, modern identity while ensuring product protection throughout shipping and retail display. The packaging had to communicate quality and professionalism, differentiate the product on crowded shelves, and create a strong first impression for customers.

The client also required a packaging solution with exceptional print quality, durable construction, and consistent manufacturing standards that could support large production volumes while remaining cost-effective.

THE SOLUTION

We designed a custom folding carton using premium paperboard, precision printing, and a soft matte finish to create a refined, premium presentation. The packaging was engineered to securely protect the bottle while enhancing shelf appeal through clean graphics and a modern structural design.

The final solution combined durability, consistent production quality, and an elevated unboxing experience, helping Highpoint strengthen its brand presence and successfully introduce its CBD wellness products to the market.

FILTHY ANIMAL

Personal Care & Grooming

THE CHALLENGE

Filthy Animal was launching its premium charcoal soap collection and required packaging that reflected the brand's bold, rugged personality while protecting the product during shipping and retail display. The packaging needed to stand out on crowded shelves, communicate product quality, and create an engaging customer experience without compromising durability.

The client also needed a packaging partner capable of delivering sharp print quality, eco-friendly materials, and consistent manufacturing standards while maintaining production efficiency and cost-effectiveness.

THE SOLUTION

We developed a custom kraft paperboard soap box featuring high-definition printing and a durable structural design that perfectly complemented the brand's bold identity. The packaging securely protected the soap while delivering an authentic, premium appearance with strong shelf impact.

The final solution combined sustainable materials, consistent production quality, and eye-catching presentation, helping Filthy Animal strengthen its brand presence and successfully launch its charcoal soap collection.
